

For immediate release

Oct. 10, 2018

Media Contact:

Baylee Banks

New Mexico Department of Agriculture

575-646-1864, bbanks@nmda.nmsu.edu

2019 New Mexico Organic Farming Conference has a new home

Deadline for exhibitor space reservation is Oct. 29

(Las Cruces, New Mexico) – The venue for the next New Mexico Organic Farming Conference has changed. Scheduled for Friday, Feb. 15 and Saturday, Feb. 16, the annual conference will be at Hotel Albuquerque at Old Town, located at 800 Rio Grande Blvd. Northwest in Albuquerque.

The new venue will provide more room for exhibitors who have until Oct. 29 to reserve a space for the conference. Early bird registration for attendees is now open.

The conference will focus on resilience, and it will include session tracks on water, soil, seeds and plants, management and new and exciting ideas in the realm of organic farming.

The keynote speaker for the conference will be Ron Rosmann of Rosmann Family Farms. The Rosmann family has been dedicated to organic farming for 30 years and received the 2018 Midwest Organic & Sustainable Education Services Organic Farmer of the Year award.

New Mexico Secretary of Agriculture Jeff Witte will provide the welcome address.

Registration and a tentative schedule of events is available at <https://tinyurl.com/NMOFC2019>.

For more information, email sagefaulkner@yahoo.com, call 505-490-2822 or visit www.nmofc.org.